

Rules

Your goal is to select the correct color in the corresponding column before the falling ball touches the main ball. At the start of the game, the ball moves downward, and you must choose the color in the column that matches its color. If the choice is correct, the main ball changes color, and the next falling ball requires selecting from a different column. Over time, the falling speed increases, and the time to choose a color decreases. Points are awarded for correct answers, with bonuses for consecutive accurate selections. A mistake or delay ends the game.
